

Jason Eldridge

Of Counsel

E-Mail:

Phone:

Fax:

Overview

Academics

Jason Eldridge is a 1995 graduate of the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities. He earned a Master's degree from the University of St. Thomas, St. Paul, in 1998, and his law degree from William Mitchell College of Law in 2002.

Professional Experience

Mr. Eldridge began his career as a prosecutor before realizing his calling was for defense work. He then served as a public defender for the First Judicial District in the State of Minnesota before joining the law firm of Caplan & Tamburino, P.A. in Minneapolis. Since 2008, he has practiced exclusively in New York where his practice focuses on criminal matters of all levels in all boroughs of New York City. Mr. Eldridge is an experienced appellate attorney and has written and argued numerous appeals before the New York Appellate Division First Judicial Department, the New York Appellate Division Second Judicial Department, and the Minnesota Court of Appeals. He also represents small businesses before the New York State Liquor Authority, the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program.

Admitted to Practice

Mr. Eldridge is admitted to practice in the States of New York and Minnesota. He is also admitted to practice in federal jurisdictions including the Southern District of New York the Federal District Court for the State of Minnesota.

Published Law Review Articles

"The Fourth Amendment: The Privacy of Overhead Luggage Compartments on Commercial Buses," William Mitchell Law Review: Vol. 27: Iss. 3, Article 18.

“Crawford v. Washington: A Small Advantage for Criminal Defense in Cases Where Prosecution Seeks to Introduce Hearsay Evidence,” William Mitchell Law Review: Vol. 31: Iss. 4, Article 2.

Academic Honors

Law Review Staff

Law Review Editor

Graduate Research Assistant

Phi Delta Phi

Pi Lambda Theta

Related Practice Areas
