

Raymond J. Rapposelli

Of Counsel

E-Mail: RaymondRapposelli@helmerlegal.com

Phone: 856-232-7000

Fax: 877-872-8879

Overview

Academics

Mr. Rapposelli earned his undergraduate degree from Swarthmore College in 1984 in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania and earned his law degree from Rutgers University School of Law at Camden in 1987.

Professional Experience

Mr. Rapposelli served his internship with the Camden County Prosecutor's Office before joining the law firm of Fritz & Rapposelli in Woodbury, New Jersey. He later established the Law Offices of Raymond J. Rapposelli, P.C. in Turnersville, New Jersey, where he has served his clients in the areas of personal injury, including wrongful death, car accidents, premises liability, dram shop, assaults, dog bites, consumer fraud, criminal defense, municipal court matters, and real estate transactions. During his tenure, Mr. Rapposelli has held several public interest positions, including counsel for the Gloucester County Housing Authority, counsel for People Against Spousal Abuse (PASA), and public defender for the Borough of Newfield. In the public arena, he was elected as Councilman for Washington Township, where he also served as liaison officer to various public agencies, and was appointed to the Washington Township Planning Board. Mr. Rapposelli has tried numerous cases in both State and Federal courts.

Affiliations

Member of the Gloucester County Bar Association.

Admitted to Practice

Mr. Rapposelli is admitted to practice in the states of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He has practiced law since 1987.